Street lighting rate hike set for hearing

By ANNE HOUGHTELING

CAMPBELL residents will get a chance next Monday to comment on a proposed assessment district that would hike the average residential bill for street lighting from $5 to $14.50.

The new assessment district would allow the city to make up a $124,675 deficit it faces on its street lighting budget, according to the city's Public Works Department.

A public hearing on the proposed district is on the June 23 City Council agenda. The council meets at 8 p.m. in the Council Chamber at City Hall, 75 N. Central Ave.

On June 2 the City Council approved the concept of setting up a new district, but public comment will be considered before the final vote on the matter is taken.

According to Bill Helms of the Public Works Department, the city needs to collect $199,675 next year to keep street lights at current burning. Under the present revenue-collecting system, the city will collect only $75,000 according to Helms.

Before the passage of Proposition 13, the city could raise the tax rate to meet the rising costs of lighting the city, Helms said. Now, though, the assessment district strategy has to be used, he said.

INCREASES in the costs of energy have led to the heftier price of lighting the city, Helms told the City Council in June.

Newest estimates place next year's increase in energy prices at 22 percent, instead of the 10 percent originally projected.

If implemented, the new assessment district would call for businesses and residents to be billed according to the benefit they derive from city lighting.

Campbell businesses and office buildings could be charged a 25 percent higher rate than households because businesses get an advertising bonus from lighting that private residences don't, according to the Public Works Department.

Residents and business owners would be assessed according to the size of their property. The average rate of $14.50 a year is based on an average-sized Campbell lot of 6,000 square feet, Helms said.

Along with the public hearing on the proposed lighting district, the June 12 council agenda includes:

- A report from a council subcommittee on rent control regarding further, if any, action the council should take on controlling rents; and
- Additional public testimony on the proposed preliminary 1980-81 budget that underwent public review last week. The proposed $12 million budget represents a $1.6 million increase in spending over last year. A vote on the budget probably will come after the testimony Monday, according to Assistant City Manager Kevin Duggan.

Some cable subscribers view specials for nothing

By ED FINKAS

THOUSANDS of Santa Clara County Gill Cable TV subscribers have discovered how to watch the special movies and entertainment on "Showtime" for free.

But a Gill Cable spokesman says they won't be able to after June 26 because the company is changing the position of "Showtime" on the cable so they can't receive it.

"Showtime" provides top movies and entertainment specials for an extra fee of $9.95 per month. This is in addition to the basic Gill Cable subscription rate of $12.95 per month.

"Showtime" subscribers also pay a $50 fee for installation of a device which makes it possible to watch the premium channels.

Many basic rate subscribers found out if you turn the fine tuning knob a certain way on a certain channel, the "Showtime" programs come in clearly for free. And the word spread.

GILL CABLE, the fifth largest cable system in the nation, serves more than 80,000 homes in San Jose, Campbell, Cupertino and unincorporated areas in Santa Clara County. Less than 10,000 of those homes subscribe to "Showtime."

"We're looking at a situation that is unfortunate at best," said Louis Soucie, director of community relations at Gill Cable.

"People can steal the signal now because it is not a scrambled signal." He said Gill Cables new system, which hasn't arrived yet, will probably be made so premium services cannot be viewed without paying.

He added that stealing signals is a traditional problem with cable TV and is not uncommon.

After announcing their premium services in February, Gill Cable planned on installing a G-80 Descrambler device which would make it difficult for basic subscribers to watch "Showtime" or "Home Box Office" illegally.

The device Gill Cable received, however, was not up to par, according to Soucie.

"WE KNEW the G-80s weren't in, but we knew thousands of people had ordered the product. Either we don't serve them until the G-80s come in or we try to use a method which at best is not good."

Gill Cable decided to use a converter product temporarily until the G-80 Descrambler device came in.

The G-80 Descrambler, being produced by Oak Industries of Chicago, is still not completed and Soucie estimates it will be at least two months before Gill Cable will receive the product.

When the new system arrives "Showtime" subscribers will turn in the temporary converter for the G-80 Descrambler. Soucie said the change will cost Gill Cable approximately $5,000.

"We ask the public to bear with us as we go through this transition stage," Soucie said.

"We're at the mercy, right now, of a manufacturer that hasn't produced a box we had hoped for."

'Like a carnival'

Tower Records neighbors say city won't stop tide of patrons and their cars

By ANNE HOUGHTELING

CARL TUCCI of Memory Lane tells of the time late at night he discovered two men dancing on his lawn to music from a newly bought tape deck playing on their car tape deck. His neighbors on Memory Lane and McBain Avenue off South Bascom Avenue have come upon people urinating on their lawns. One resident was chased by a knife-wielding man, Tucci says.

The neighborhood is "like a carnival" every weekend, Tucci claims. Unruly patrons of Tower Records on South Bascom and the overflow of patrons' cars from the store parking lot have made the neighborhood almost unbearable, Tucci says.

Tucci's and other residents' reelings toward the popular record emporium haven't mellowed over the six years or so Tower Records has been in business at 1900 South Bascom Ave. Several times neighbors have appealed to the Campbell City Council for some relief, but, Tucci says, the city has not been effective in easing the situation.

"THE CITY of Campbell is most ineffectual in handling it," Tucci charges. And he describes Tower Records as "not giving a damn about the neighborhood."

Tower Manager Matthew Koenig bristles when his customers are tagged as "undesirables." At least, they're not poor with today's price of records, he points out.

Koenig also says he's urged Tower's parent company in Sacramento to lease an adjacent vacant lot to increase parking space. But so far, he says, he's received no word from headquarters.

Like Tucci, Koenig places much of the parking problem on the city. When Tower Records came to Campbell, the city was "begging for business," he recalls. At that time, he says, community reaction to the store was not taken into consideration.

TWO YEARS AGO the city, on residents' requests, installed "no parking" signs on McBain to try to prevent Tower Record's patrons from parking on neighborhood streets. Both the city and residents wrote that experiment off as a failure because the parking ban was too hard to enforce.

Earlier this month, the city Public Works Department recommended against a plan to make McBain Avenue into a one-way street westbound. The Neighbors of Tower Records had submitted a petition with 38 signature urging the move.

A one-way street, according to the department, would only cause extra traffic congestion on streets leading to McBain Avenue.

Instead, the Public Works Department and the Police Department recommended "an effort be made to cut back on their (Tower Record's) business hours."

Two councilmembers will be meeting soon with Tower Record's management to duscuss the cutback, according to Assistant City Manager Kevin Duggan.

HOWEVER, CITY Attorney Bob Dempster has cautioned the council that the city cannot legally set Tower Record's hours of business since hours were not specified in the original permits the store obtained from the city.

Koenig doesn't seem receptive to a voluntary cutback in hours.

"I wouldn't care for it," he says. "By 11 p.m., it's not so busy, anyway. That (limiting hours) wouldn't make a difference since PruneYard people come over here (to park) anyway."

Tucci has never held out much hope that Tower Records would voluntarily limit its hours.

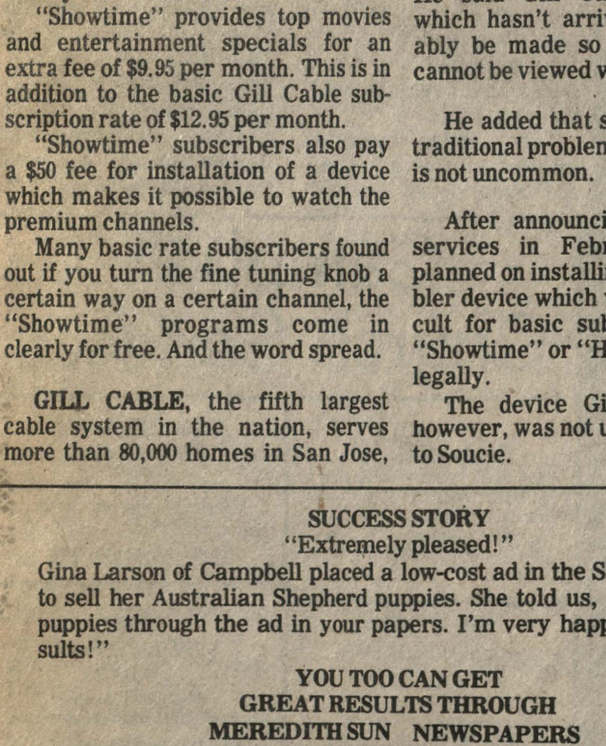
"Do you think Tower is going to close at 8 p.m. when it has a lot of customers?" he asks. "Tower has the right to make lots of money, but not at my expense."

Fireworks sale ban to remain

THE COURT ruling overturning the ban on the sale of 'safe and sane' fireworks in Santa Clara County and the city of San Jose won't affect Campbell at this time, according to Fire Chief Jim McMullen.

Campbell's ban on the sale of fireworks has been in effect since 1976, when the city sponsored the first aerial fireworks display at the July 4th celebration at John D. Morgan Park. The aerial display has been an annual event since then.

"If someone were to come in and ask for a permit to sell fireworks," McMullen said, "I'd have to tell them no."



After all the goodbyes, the 80-year history of Campbell High ends

CAMPBELL HIGH School students, right, sign each other's yearbooks Thursday as they wait for the last and final bell to toll at the 80-year-old school. A little after noon, some of the 1,300 students boarded buses for the last time, but others stayed on for a while to say their goodbyes. About 275 also stayed to get their diplomas that night at graduation ceremonies. It was an "emotional week," according to Principal Roland Baldwin, and the mood was "a little melancholy," which perhaps explained why it was "one of the quieter last days." The school won't remain closed entirely, however, since the high school district plans to lease it out to recreational, education or other groups. The city of Campbell is considering leasing the entire school and serving as an umbrella for smaller groups who want to use the site.

1,300 potatoes to peel

Local cook to try her spatula at talent fair

By
ANNE HOUGHTELING

IN THE NEXT few days, Michelle Myers of Campbell will be cooking 1,300 potatoes.

Myers, at 27 already a veteran cooking professional, is taking on a new challenge this summer. On July 4, 5 and 6 she'll be frying up potato skins and zucchini slices at a booth at San Jose's Tapestry in Talent fair. The event's sponsors estimate as many as 500,000 persons may attend the arts and crafts fair.

Even if every single one doesn't stop by her booth to buy a snack, Myers knows she's taken on a big task.

A friend on the Tapestry in Talent board of directors encouraged her to participate. She jokes that only when the fair is over will she know whether to "thank him or beat him on the head."

Another friend will supply a truck to haul the potatoes from a produce market. Myers' parents Bob and Martha have offered to help in the potato peeling. Myers has assured them they'll not only help but work along with her.

She'll enlist their refrigerator for storage and she plans to buy a new one to keep ingredients cool immediately before they're shipped in a family van and camper to the downtown San Jose fair site.

THE POTATO skins, an appetizer she learned about from a friend who works in a restaurant where they're featured, will be freshly fried at her booth in El Paseo de San Antonio in San Jose.

She says she chose the potato skins because they're fast to prepare once a cook has stockpiled the scooped-out skins.

Though managing a booth will be a new experience for Myers, she has extensive background in other facets of commercial food preparation.

While attending Camden High School she took part in a two-year program at the San Jose Vocational Center on quantity food preparation. After graduation in 1971, she attended West Valley College, where she earned a degree in hotel and restaurant management.

She's taught at the adult education program in cooking at the San Jose Unified School District. Last year, in addition, she led a class in restaurant-style cooking at the San Jose Vocational Center.

Now, her energies go into private cooking classes she offers in students' homes.

Myers says cooking comes naturally to her. Both parents are good cooks. "My Mom is recipe-oriented and my dad an intuitive cook," she says.

Myers specializes in Italian cooking, an interest inspired by her mother, whose family is from Sicily.

AS A NATIONAL finalist last year at the Pillsbury Bake-Off competition in Miami Beach, she prepared a pasta dish called a calzone pizza turnover. She makes her own pasta with a hand-cranked pasta machine.

Despite the Italian emphasis, last year to her surprise she found herself crowned queen of the local chili cookoff. Her recipe was pure experimentation: She had never cooked chili before, she says.

The recipe her chili-making team had first planned to use turned out to have been published before, making it ineligible according to contest rules. Using the first recipe as a starting point, she says she "just experimented around" until she concocted the balance of ingredients that won the judges' favor.

MICHELLE MYERS makes a practice batch of potato skins in her apartment on North Central Avenue. Born in San Jose, Myers has lived in Campbell for the last eight years.

Photography by Dan Honda

Myers dreams of opening her own restaurant or of returning to teaching at the San Jose Vocational Center in the future.

She seems to be leaning toward going back to teaching food preparation, however. Instructing Job Corps students in their late teens and early 20's is particularly satisfying, she says.

"The students may never apply for restaurant jobs," she says. "But the abilities they learn, the responsibilities and attitudes, are things they can use in any job."

More facilities planned

A NEW construction package may be together for John D. Morgan park that could mean more volleyball courts and horseshoe pits, according to the Campbell Public Works Department.

Now two courts and four horseshoe pits are planned, but their number might be doubled, says Director of Public Works Joe Elliott.

The extra facilities could be paid for with some of the $69,480 originally marked for installation of lights at the park's softball diamond, according to Elliott.

The Campbell City Council voted against installation of lights April 21 after hearing from residents concerned that an upgraded ball field might attract more people and more litter and noise problems.

If the department decides to increase the number of courts and horseshoe pits, going out to bid for the construction will be delayed while the new package is put together, Elliott says. Bidding would start in a month or two. That delay would postpone the late summer or early fall opening date originally anticipated, he says.

Estimated cost for the originally planned two courts and four horseshoe pits was $75,400.

Fireworks fund

The Campbell Chamber of Commerce is urging businesses to contribute toward the chamber's fund for fireworks to be set off July 4 at John D. Morgan Park.

As of last week, the chamber was less than halfway to its goal of collecting $3,000, according to Shirley Stanford of the chamber.

Businesses wishing to assure a bang-up celebration may send their contributions to the chamber, 328 E. Campbell Ave.

Impressions

(NOT THAT KIND OF PROMOTION)

THOUGH a chamber of commerce is in the business of promoting its city, the Campbell chamber isn't about to play cupid to do so.

The chamber recently received a letter from Santa Cruz resident Todd B. Hebbron asking for help in locating a slender "Mexican-American, Chicano or Filipino" woman aged 19 to 30. Object? "... for a girl friend or maybe a permanent relationship," Hebbron said.

The writer identified himself only as a 31-year-old man, never married, who plans to move soon. Whether or not he would settle in Campbell was not made clear.

"We won't respond," stated chamber secretary Shirley Stanford. She guessed the letter might be research for a thesis. The differing type styles in the letter indicated it was a form letter, she added.

Hebbron himself couldn't be reached. Anyway, the matter's officially closed as far as the chamber's concerned. Attached to the letter, now filed away, is a note from chamber manager Ted Rogers asking, "Are we in the lovelorn business?"

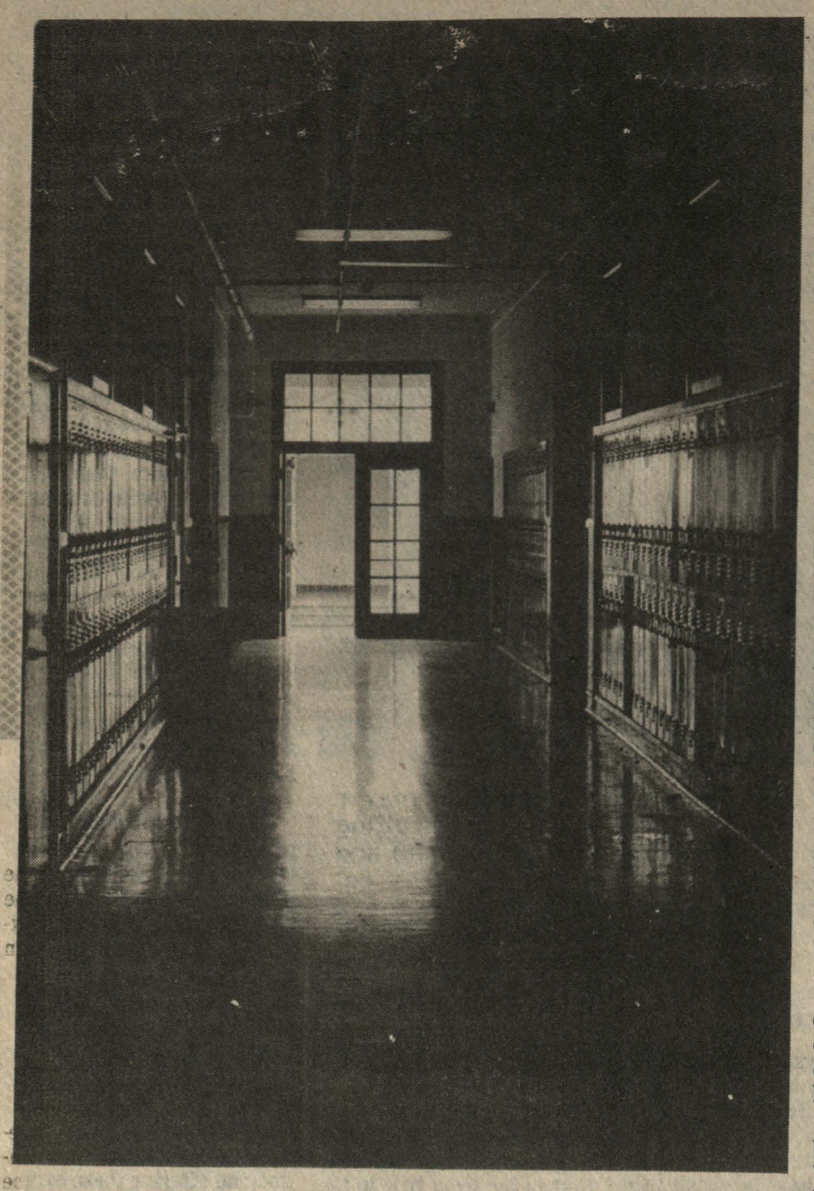
Hearing next week

Residents ask city to lease Campbell High



The halls of Campbell High won't long remain dark and silent if the City Council takes the advice of many residents at a recent hearing at the school. More than a dozen Campbellites told the council they'd like the city to master lease the site and rent or lease parts of it out to smaller groups like recreational organizations, senior programs or private schools.
Photography by Amy Huntoon

By ROBERT HOF

AN AUDIENCE of about 60 or 70 people cheered as Campbell residents told the City Council at a hearing last week that they want the city to lease Campbell High and sublease parts of it to senior, nutrition and recreational programs.

Mayor Rusty Hammer said the city wanted to find out whether residents favored the city's acting as a tenant for specific programs or as a master lessor for other groups, or not getting involved at all.

An advisory committee made up of Hammer, Councilman Ralph Doetsch and representatives of the Youth, Civic Improvement, Parks and Recreation and Planning Commissions meets June 18 to discuss groups interested in parts of the site and what the city might want from the site.

Another meeting next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall among the council, the advisory commission and the public will include a report on who's interested, and a public hearing next Wednesday, June 25, at 7:30 either at City Hall or at the Campbell High cafeteria will consider recommendations made at the Tuesday meeting.

Groups that have expressed interest in the site include preschools, adult schools, private schools, recreational and athletic groups and music and theater groups.

HAMMER SAID the plans have no effect on the pending appeal of a court decision to allow the school to be closed, but that the city was trying to keep its options open.

More than a dozen speakers told the council at the hearing that they wanted the city to master lease the entire site, for which the high school district wants about $187,000 a year. Many said that would make it easier for smaller groups who can't afford large parts of the site on their own.

Catherine Scott said the open space on the campus is used by "hundreds and maybe thousands of residents." She wanted the city to lease at least the open space but also favored a master lease arrangement.

Another resident said the city should master lease the site so seniors in the area would have one center at which they could all meet.

Irene Reynolds favored a master lease partly to house the nutrition program.

"The community has invested a whole lot in this facility," said John Smurthwaite, "not just in money but also emotions. The city should maintain all open space."

Sally Howe said the city could represent the community better than any other group, asking the council to take over at least the entire building facilities.

Warren Martin likened the school to orchards: "Once gone, it's darned expensive to get them back." He said the Bobby Sox league needs the site because the field across the street from Campbell High is going to be developed.

Jeanette Watson said she also favors a master lease, but she added that because the lease is only for five years, the city should keep in mind that the school district might want the school back. That means any group housed in the school in the next five years would have to find someplace else. Watson said because of the short lease duration, private schools are the best use for the site since their operations could be moved more easily than other uses.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Adult Independent Development Center and the Dolphinettes swim team also made appeals for a master lease.

Herb Kilmar said he wanted to see the site continue to be used for educational purposes.

Councilman Bill Podgorsek stressed that the city doesn't have any money to put into the school, and he expects any arrangement to be self-sustaining.

Hammer also said the city would expect to recover any costs.

The high school district has already advertised for bids on the site, but public agencies like the city of Campbell have priority over private groups. Campbell has until the middle of July to notify the district of its plans.

Garden Club

Lorraine Doetsch named 1980 Woman of the Year

LORRAINE DOETSCH, the Campbell Garden Club Woman of the Year for 1980, is shown with the certificate she received from the local club.

THE CAMPBELL Garden Club Woman of the Year for 1980 is Lorraine Doetsch, a six-year member of the group who is currently awards chairman. She is the wife of Councilman Ralph Doetsch.

Lorraine was honored at a recent club meeting and received a plaque and corsage of baby roses from the group.

She formerly served as chairman for the Christmas Tree Lane project, was secretary of the club for two years and served as chairman of the food committee for the installation tea.

Active in other gorups, she is also past president of the St. Lucy's Mother's Guild and treasurer of the St. Lucy's Altar Society.

Her favorite flowers are gladiolas, rhododendrons, azaleas and camellias. "You name a flower and I like them," she explained.

The Campbell Garden Club recently prepared and delivered dish gardens to patients at Agnews Hospital for its final public service project of the club year, which ends this summer.

The last club function of the year will be the annual picnic at Vasona Park planned for July 2.

Campbell High students tops in statewide contest

By PAT LIDEN

CAMPBELL High School distributive education students are looking forward toward national honors after winning first place in the state in the annual Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. Learn and Earn competition.

Bob May, assistant manager of the student store, will represent California at the national Distributive Education Clubs of America convention in Miami Beach, Fla., June 21 to 25. He will be accompanied by his teacher, Steve Resz.

The state prize-winning project, written by Campbell students, has been sent in to the national contest, where prize awards range up to $1,500 worth of Pepsi-Cola stock.

Five students were involved in the state competition and helped write the 30-page report of the two-year sales and merchandising project that won state honors — seniors Bob May and Brad Brown, president of Campbell's DECA group, juniors Melissa Calahan and Nancy Daly and Kelly Hardwick, a 1979 graduate now studying at West Valley College.

"The odds were all against us, but we won," exulted Brown and May as they displayed their prize trophy. This year is the first time Campbell students had entered the statewide competition, and they were competing against many larger, more experienced schools, Brown pointed out. "When we started the project, we had a debt of nearly $1,000," said Brown. "Our student store, The Bounty Shoppe, had been looted and we lost a lot of merchandise. We also inherited some big bills from previous classes. We cleaned up most of the debt last year, moved our store from an outdoor stand into a classroom and generally reorganized our business."

"We'll end this year with a profit of about $1,000," added May, who expects the store to make at least $300 before the end of school toward his expenses at the national convention. The store paid expenses for all the delegates to the state DECA convention at San Jose Hyatt House in April and students expect to leave a good starter fund for new store operations next year.

The project report, complete with pictures and records, told the complete story of the student store operation. "Most of our profits come from soft drink and candy sales and our best seller is Pepsi-Cola," reported May, "especially diet Pepsi. Now that the weather's getting warm and kids are playing baseball, business will be good."

Campbell high and Leigh high presently offer distributive education programs as electives for juniors and seniors. They operate student stores as laboratories to try out the skills they learn in class in buying and selling. Students are in charge of the entire store operation, Resz explained. They decide what goods will sell and how to promote sales, and they keep records. They take turns in various store jobs, from clerks to managers.

There are 60 students in the two Campbell High School classes. Most of them are planning future careers in business, said Resz, and they already have jobs in addition to school work.

Five Leigh students will also attend the national DECA meet in Florida, accompanied by Resz and May. They are among twenty California students who placed first or second in the state to qualify for the national competition. Steve Catching placed first in food marketing and Mary Hays first in apparel and accessories. Sue O'Leary was second in general merchandising, Craig Ferguson second in apparel and accessories, and Kevin Forest second in food services.

WHY DOES MY AUTO INSURANCE HAVE TO COST SO MUCH?
IT DOESN'T!
In fact, with our new Custom Auto Program, you can significantly affect what your own auto insurance premiums will be.
How? Easy. We base your cost on factors you can control . . . your driving record (not on your age or sex), the exposure you have to accidents (where you drive, how much you drive and whether you drive for pleasure or business) and by the type of car you drive. With Custom Auto you can control the cost of your insurance.
Specifically, we're looking for drivers who have had a good driving record for the past three years. Drivers who use their cars for pleasure and light commuting. And drivers who have had a favorable claim record for the last three years.
It's a nice feeling to know that now your auto insurance won't have to cost so much.
Stop in to see us about Custom Auto . . . the auto insurance with premiums custom-tailored to your needs.

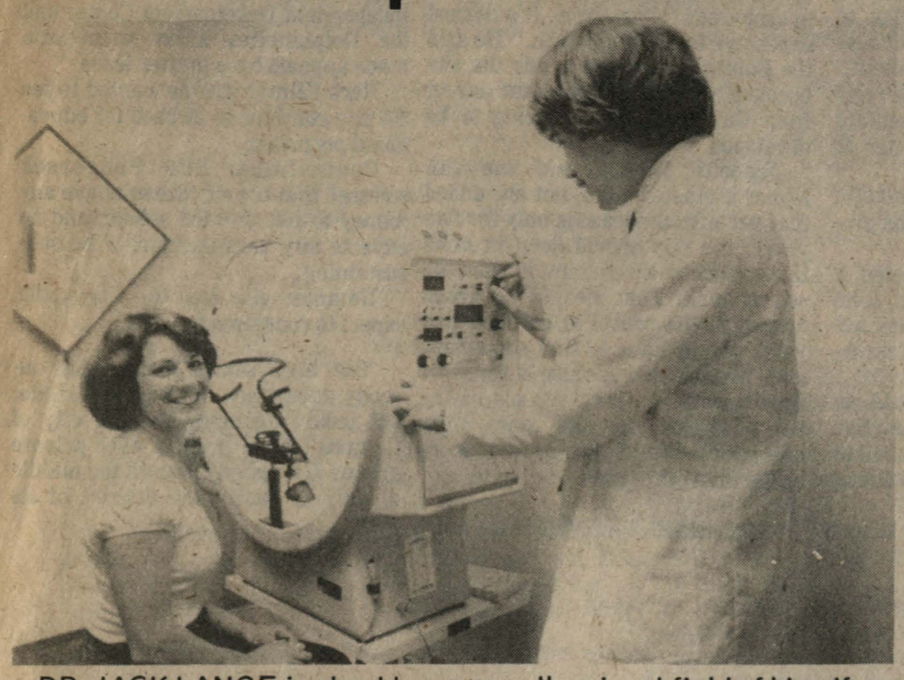
Optometrist opens office

Computer checks sight in blink of an eye



DR. JACK LANGE is about to measure the visual field of his wife, Carol, with the Visual Scanner computer. This machine can detect within 15 to 20 minutes whether a patient has an eye disease or not.

COMPUTERS. They seem to crop up everywhere lately, from supermarket and department store checkout stands to automated, computerized bank tellers. Dr. Peter Ross, Campbell optometrist, has nothing but praise for his new Dioptron II Diagnostic Eye Computer.

At the recent grand opening of his new office, Family & Preventive Vision Care, 1725 S. Bascom Ave., Suite 108, the newest in vision care technology was demonstrated for guests.

The Dioptron II Eye Computer uses infrared light to calculate the size of the eye as the patient looks into the computer eyepiece. Its reflection back is then measured by the computer within six to eight seconds for each eye. Within 18 seconds, it automatically measures how well a person can focus and see.

According to Ross, it is a highly accurate, time-saving device. Since it works so quickly, it is especially ideal for testing children and seniors.

Ross has also acquired another computer instrument. This one, the Visual Field Scanner, tests an individual's visual field, the area seen with either eye, including the maximum distance seen to each side and the blind spots within that area.

"Up to now, the visual field determination has required highly skilled and trained technicians, and a long period of time, sometimes up to an hour," Ross explained. "With the automated perimeter, we are now able to do a visual field screening in an average time of under 10 minutes and a comprehensive examination in approximately 15 to 20 minutes."

In these few minutes, diseases with potential of affecting the visual field, such as glaucoma, neuritis, stroke and vascular abnormalities, amblyopia, brain tumors and many retinal disorders can be detected.

There may be no symptoms associated with some of these diseases until irreversible visual damage has resulted, Ross said, stressing that it was a good idea to have a visual field test done before serious problems have a chance to develop.

Ross recommends that everyone over 30 have a visual field test performed at the time of a complete eye examination— for much the same reasons that an electrocardiogram is performed during a general physical examination, even though symptoms of heart disease may not be present.

Others Ross suggests should have a visual field examination are those of any age who have a family history of glaucoma, frequent and or severe headaches, neurological symptoms of weakness, tingling, dizziness, or decreased vision not improvable with glasses or lenses.

WHILE SOME predict that the computer is putting humans out of work, that is far from true in the case of Ross and his assistant, Dr. Jack E. Lange. Their computers merely help them provide a holistic approach to vision care. According to Ross, this holistic method is "quite new to the vision care profession."

"It entails the examination of the patient," Ross explained, "not only to discern the symptom, but more importantly, what would be the cause of the symptom; i.e., excessive near work, improper nutrition, inappropriate lighting and other stresses that can cause visual problems."

The optometrist advocates a more thorough approach to vision testing in schools, instead of just relying on the Snellen Wall Chart, which only demonstrates if children can see well from 20 feet away.

He encourages optometrists to test for hand-eye coordination, depth perception, eye muscle action, side vision and understanding what is seen.

IN ADDITION to incorporating the use of computers and a holistic approach to optometry, Ross also instructs patients on preventive vision health care. Through special exercises, several hundred of his patients have been spared the inconvenience of wearing glasses or contact lenses.

Ross and Lange will soon be offering these exercises in workshops free to the public, in addition to other classes in vision care.

NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT
LOCAL IMPROVEMENT
DISTRICT NO. 28

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 9th day of July, 1979, the City Council of the City of Campbell, Santa Clara County, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention No. 5619, as amended, wherein it did declare that in its opinion the public interest, convenience and necessity required and that it was the intention of said Council to order the acquisitions and improvements more particularly described as follows:

(a) The acquisition of property necessary for the construction of curb returns and for the opening of new streets from a point on South Bascom Avenue 1150 feet, more or less, southerly of Hamilton Avenue all as more particularly shown on a map thereof hereto attached, marked Exhibit "A" and by reference incorporated herein and the improvement thereof by clearing, grubbing, grading, removal of existing trees, shrubs and structures and the construction therein of base, pavement, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, traffic signal facilities, underground serviced street lighting facilities, surface and subsurface storm drainage facilities, where required, sanitary sewer mains, manholes with manhole frames and covers, and laterals, where required, water mains, valves, tees, services and hydrants, where required, underground electrical power and communication distribution, transmission and service facilities, together with appurtenances to any of the above.

(b) The acquisition of all lands and easements and the performing of all work auxiliary to any of the above and necessary to complete the same.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the City Council of said City and on file for public inspection in the office of the City Clerk.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists and that, to said extent, said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

In cases where there is any disparity in level or size between the improvements proposed to be made herein and private property and where it is more economical to eliminate such disparity by work on said private property than by adjustment of the work on public property, it is hereby determined that it is in the public interest and more economical to do such work on private property to eliminate such disparity. In such cases, said work on private property shall, with the written consent of the owner of said property, be done and the actual cost thereof may be added to the proposed assessment of the lot on which said work is to be done.

Notice is hereby given that to the extent shown on the Engineer's Report it is the intention of the City Council to enter into agreements with public agencies or public utilities, or both, relating to their ownership, management and control of improvements subject to their jurisdiction.

It is intended by the City Council of said City to enter into agreements with the Pacific Gas & Electric Company and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, which agreements will provide for the ownership by said Companies of underground electric and gas facilities and communication facilities in said City to be installed by said Companies and for providing of services to the properties in said area by said Companies in accordance with their rates, rules and regulations, and that said agreements shall become effective after proceedings have been taken for the levy of the assessments and sale of bonds and funds are available to carry out their terms.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Council, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the cost and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area as more particularly shown on a map thereof on file in the office of the City Clerk, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars. Said map indicates by a boundary line the extent of the territory included in the proposed district and shall govern for all details as to the extent of the assessment district.

The total estimated cost of said project is $726,098.00, of which the City will contribute the estimated amount of $43,012.00, leaving an estimated balance of $683,086.00 to be assessed.

Notice is hereby given that, except as herein otherwise provided, serial bonds to represent the unpaid assessments, and to bear interest at the rate of not to exceed ten percent (10%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code of the State of California, the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed nineteen (19) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten (10) months from their date.

Notice is further given that, should there be publicly owned operative property within the assessment district, certificates or serial bonds to represent the unpaid assessments against publicly owned property in use in the performance of a public function and to bear interest at the rate of not to exceed ten percent (10%) per annum, will be issued hereunder pursuant to Section 10206 of said Streets and Highways Code and in the manner provided in Section 6467 or Chapter 4.5 (commencing with Section 6468), Part 5, Division 7 of said Streets and Highways Code, the Improvement Act of 1911, the last installment of which certificates or bonds shall mature not to exceed nineteen (19) years from the second day of June beginning with the fiscal year next following the date of the bonds.

Pursuant to Part 14 of Division 10 of said Streets and Highways Code, said Council intends to covenant for the benefit of bondholders to commence and diligently prosecute to completion any foreclosure action regarding delinquent installments of any assessments which secure the bonds to be issued in said proceedings to represent unpaid assessments.

Pursuant to Part 16 of Division 10 of said Streets and Highways Code, said Council intends to include in said proceedings an amount to create a special reserve fund for the bonds to be issued in said proceedings to represent unpaid assessments.

The description of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention, as amended, are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work and maps and descriptions, as contained in the Engineer's Report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, all of said improvements shall be done pursuant to the provisions of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, Division 12 of said Streets and Highways Code.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of said Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the City Clerk.

Notice is further given that the Director of Public Works of said City pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, as amended, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 27th day of May, 1980, file with the City Clerk of said City his report, in writing, on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of cost and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Council did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, as amended.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Monday, the 7th day of July, 1980, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock p.m. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Council, Council Chambers, City Hall, 75 North Central Avenue, Campbell, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Council when and where it will consider and finally determine whether the public interest, convenience, and necessity require said acquisitions and improvements; when it will consider and determine whether the owners of a majority of the area of the property in the proposed assessment district have protested against said acquisitions and improvements, or any portion thereof; when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's Report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention, as amended, when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements or to the grades at which said work will be done, the extent of the assessment district, to the Engineer's estimate of the cost and expenses thereof, to the proposed diagram and assessment or to the maps and descriptions; and that any person interested may file a written protest with the City Clerk at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

The Department of Public Works of said City, be and it is hereby, designated as the department to answer inquiries regarding any protest proceedings to be had therein and may be contacted during regular office hours at the Department of Public Works, City Hall, 75 North Central Avenue, Campbell, California, 95008, or by calling (408) 378-8141.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention, as amended, and said report, including plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs, diagram and assessment and maps and descriptions for a more particular description of said acquisitions and improvements to be had and done and for further particulars, all on file in the office of the City Clerk.

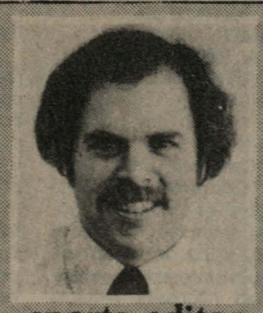
on the hot corner



by dick sparrer sports editor

WHY IS IT that every team in Major League Baseball seems to better itself through trades and free agent deals, bu the San Francisco Giants always come out of a trade on the short end or with a clone of a player they had before?

Take Ed Whitson for example — he bears a striking resemblance in ability to Tom Bradley, a Giant of the early 70's (they both lose as many as they win). And Mike Sadek — it would be hard to convince me he's not the clone of that low-hitting Bob Barton of the late 60's.

But the biggest clone of them all is Jim Wohlford. He comes to the Giants in the footsteps of Ty Cline, Jim Howarth, Jim Rosario, Gary Thomasson, Heity Cruz and, most recently, Jim Dwyer — journeyman outfielders all.

Tom Bradley, Whitson's clone

In my eyes, Wohlford is Jim Dwyer. They're both average fielders who won't hit for a very high average. But their attendance is perfect!

The Giants trade a player like Dwyer in March of 1979, so that they can sign a player like Wohlford as a free agent in December. Pretty shrewd!

It's just frustrating to watch the Giants' ability for finding the Wohlfords and Whitsons, and their ability for losing the Bill Madlocks and George Fosters.

Oh well, maybe somewhere in their search for talent the Giants will find the elusive clone of Willie Mays they've been searching for for so long. .

WHAT HAS WINGS but doesn't fly, and it's not an ostrich! A super modified race car of course.

But how did the hard tops of the 50's ever evolve into the rather strange looking winged modifieds of today? Well, according to modified veteran Howard Haeding of Campbell, the first driver to try out the wing in San Jose was George Snider.

"He took a sheet of plywood and made a wing with some sides on it," said Kaeding. "He came out with it one night and broke the track record. Then it became a necessity."

So suddenly the super modifieds sprouted wings, and it must have been a popular idea because now more than 5,000 fans cram into the stands at the San Jose Fairgrounds Speedway each Saturday night to watch the winged cars "fly" around the dirt oval.

THE BIG CROWDS at the Fairgrounds Speedway, along with the capacity crowds that show up twice a year for San Jose National motorcycle races, help rank motor sports right up with the San Jose Earthquakes as the top two professional spectator sports in the Santa Clara Valley.

The two sports have made it big in San Jose, an area people have labeled a real "big league" city.

But what of San Jose's other professional teams — the San Jose Rainbow, the San Jose Diablos and the San Jose Missions.

Well, the Rainbow is a women's softball team without a league, the Diablos have dropped out of the International Volleyball Association and the Missions could fit their crowds into the dugouts this year.

San Jose fans seem to be selective. If they want to see a professional baseball game, they head to San Francisco or Oakland, and it would seem they would rather play softball and volleyball than watch it. . .

TOM WATSON can do it all, or at least he did in the first two rounds of the US Open last week.

Watson came up with his share of pars and birdies in the first two days of the Open, but he also smacked a pair of shots that weekend duffers only dream about.

On the first day of the Open, Watson recorded an ace when he dropped a hole-in-one on the par three number two at the Baltusrol Golf Club.

And just a day later he holed out from the fairway with another shot to notch an eagle at Baltusrol.

There were those complaining about pin placement at the prestigious Open, but not Watson — he like those flags right where they were!

Unenviable task for South girls

THE SOUTH all-star girls basketball team will be faced with an interesting challenge Thursday night at Santa Clara University's Toso Pavilion: how to stop Santa Clara center Linda Walsh.

Few players, boys or girls, dominated high school basketball games the way Walsh did the past season at Santa Clara.

The 6-2 Panther was virtually unstoppable, scoring at will on the way to the Central Coast Section scoring crown.

Now Margaret Milam's South all-star team will be faced with the unenviable task of trying to contain the talented Santa Clara high product. Just how successful the South is at stopping Walsh will probably decide the outcome of the 6:30 p.m. contest.

A second all-star team between the top senior boys in the Central Coast Section will follow the girls contest at 8 p.m.

THE CONTESTS are co-sponsored by the De Anza Lions Club and the California Coaches Association, and proceeds will provide donation camperships for handicapped young people to attend Camp Costanoan during the summer season.

Tickets to the basketball doubleheader are $4 for adults and $2 for youngsters under 18, and are available at the door.

Although Walsh will be the tallest player on the floor Thursday evening, lack of size will be a weakness for the North all-stars.

"We don't have a lot of height," admitted North head coach Virgil Pate of Monta Vista. "The South has a lot of size. They have six or seven tall girls, while we only have four."

Pate, however, hopes that his club's quickness will be enough to overcome the South's decided size advantage.

"We don't match up with them well at all," he noted. "But we have some quickness. What we plan on doing is putting a good deal of pressure on them and hope to outquick them."

The North's quickness eminates from guards like Donna Callejon of St. Francis, Mandy Santos of Mitty, Monica Propach of Monta Vista and Roseanne Quinn of Capuchino.

ACCORDING to Milam, the South's head coach, her team's strength is not its superior height, but rather its ability to play together as a unit.

"We play very well as a team," said Milam, the head coach at Silver Creek. "We really work well together."

"Our shooting and rebounding should keep us hanging in there," added Milam.

Milam's South team is composed of Christie Ledesma and Diana Piazza of Notre Dame, Rita Walker of Independence, Carol Rinauro of Piedmont Hills, Lyndell Payne of Seaside, Sharon Hightower of Santa Cruz, Chris Hester of Mt. Pleasant, Cathy Hampton of Aptos, Jacqueline Bowman of Camden, Jenny Bean of Leland, and Paula Sifflet of Santa Teresa.

Rounding out the North team will be Jill Brophy of Westmoor, Karen Cooke of Lynbrook, Kristi Fennelly of Mercy, Alex Hadfield of Cupertino, Kathy Jensen of St. Francis, Sandy Reed of Sunnyvale, and Christine Rosvold of Peterson.

THE BOYS game will also feature a tall South team against a smaller North squad.

The South's front line will include 6-9 Gary von Waaden of Piedmont Hills, 6-7 Roger MacDonnell of Bellarmine, 6-6 Ron Brumfield of Willow Glen, 6-6 Buzzy Butler of Gilroy, 6-6 John Dyer of Branham, 6-4 John Watson of Westmont, 6-4 Marichal Gilbert of Mt. Pleasant, and 6-3 Jeff Kennon of Milpitas.

The South all-stars also feature the added dimension of fast and talented ballhandling guards in Stan Arnold of Silver Creek, Terry Davis of Lincoln, David Ponce of Mt. Pleasant, and Jeff Wright of Willow Glen.

West Catholic Athletic League strongmen Mike Norman of St. Francis and Frank Avalos of Riordan will try to keep the South's big boys off the boards for the North.

The North will also be depending on the brilliant outside shooting of Fremont guard John Prunty and the penetrating abilities of Saratoga backcourt ace Tim Taylor.

Rounding out the North team will be Rich Belli of Terra Nova, Dave Delbon of Mills, Kent Eaton of Palo Alto, Derrick Johnson of Westmoor, Bruce Nash of Carlmont, Steve Scolini of St. Ignatius, Russ Scheibley of Sunnyvale, and Otis Ward of Sacred Heart.

Fred Mitchell of Sequoia high school is the coach of the North team, while Norm Friborg of Piedmont Hills is the South mentor.

Robins' Watari hurls Campbell LL no-hitter

MIKE WATARI was brought on with no outs in the first inning to relieve Jeff Ledesma for Robins and proceeded to retire all 18 batters he faced for a 3-1 no-hitter in the Campbell Little League recently.

Craig Middlekauff and Jeff Hamro collected two hits each for Robins, which holds third place currently in the Campbell Little League major division.

Robins gave Campbell Plaza its first loss of the second half with a 9-3 win. Watari was the winning pitcher, allowing just three hits. Robins scored seven of its runs in the fourth inning.

Plaza returned the favor with a 2-1 victory a few days later. Singles by Brian Maher and Shane Bailey scored the two Plaza runs, and Middlekauff had all three Robin hits and scored its only run.

Hamro of Robins and Bailey of Plaza hurled complete game three-hitters for their sides.

In other games around the majors, Brian Liquori struck out 11 batters and had two hits to lead Brueners to a 5-3 win over Doetch Building.

Mike Gorr, in his first pitching appearance of the season, allowed just three hits to get the victory for Willow Glen Optimist over Fontanetti's 5-3.

D'S AUTOMOTIVE scored eight runs in the sixth inning to notch an 11-8 win over Breuners. Matt Murata, Ryan Zamora, Keith Gibbs and Mike Morgan had RBI hits in the big inning.

Jason Engle had three base hits for Breuners.

Doetch errors and singles by Greg Gohr and Larry Cardoza proved enough for Moose to topple the Builders 5-2. Doetch's runs came on Troy Buckley's two-run homer.

Steve Baker drove in four runs with his triple and single that led Willow Glen Optimist past Fontanetti's 7-4.

Doetch Building got back on the winning track with consecutive victories over Campbell Plaza and Moose.

Buckley homered, doubled and singled to lead the win over Plaza 14-9. Monte Bippos had three hits and Troy Viat was the pitcher for the winners.

Doetch avenged their earlier loss to Moose with a 5-2 come-from-behind win. Buckley struck out 15 batters to quiet the Moose bats.

Breuners beat D's Automotive 7-5 on singles by Liquori, Curtiss Farias, Jason Engle and Kevin Christian. A triple by Jim DiVittorio was the big hit for D's.

Minor division scores found Campbell Optimist downing RBI 28-7; Sir Speedy knocked off Rotary 6-1; Elite Cleaners topped Optimist 6-1; Winchester Theatre fell to Rotary 12-10; Kiwanis scored an 8-7 win over RBI; Rotary defeated Winchester Theatre 15-2; Kiwanis beat RBI 13-2; Sir Speedy held on for a 13-12 victory over Lucan Electric; Elite dashed Campbell Optimist 24-2; and Lucas beat RBI 21-3.

California all-stars stage stunning series comeback

JOE WINSTEAD and the rest of the California all-star coaches left Fresno State College shaking their heads least Friday night.

The California coaching staff had just watched its team — a collection of the state's finest high school seniors — get routed 20-9 by an all-star squad from Oklahoma. And with two games still to play in their three-game series, it appeared as though the California all-stars were in for a long weekend.

But somehow the Californians regrouped in time to shade the Oklahoma sluggers 4-3 on Saturday, and then completed their amazing turnaround with a 12-4 victory on Sunday in the rubber game of the series.

"The way they (Oklahoma) were hitting the ball on Friday night we thought we might be overmatched," admitted Winstead, who is serving as an assistant coach on the California club.

California's turnabout could be linked to its pitching staff. After being shelled for 21 hits in the first game of the series, the Cal all-star pitchers settled down in time to pretty much silence Oklahoma's big bats the rest of the way.

FRESNO native Ron Robison and Los Gatos high product Dave Niemiec began California's comeback on Saturday night.

Robison, the first round draft pick of the Cincinnati Reds, tossed the first four innings, allowing three hits, two runs and three walks. He struck out four.

The 6-5 hurler signed with the Reds minutes after the ballgame for a bonus that was reportedly the largest Cincinnati has ever given a prepster. He was immediately assigned to Tampa, the Red's Class A affiliate in the Florida State League.

Niemiec pitched the final three innings, allowing just one run, to record the victory.

The Los Gatos righthander then started Sunday's contest and pitched the first three and two-thirds innings, leaving with his club behind 2-1.

Niemiec pitched a total of six full innings in the series with Oklahoma, allowing four hits, two runs (one earned) and four walks. He struck out eight.

Campbell high's Jeff Melrose pitched a total of three and two-thirds innings, yielding two hits, one run and five walks, while whiffing four. He had no record.

Tim Fleury of Prospect and Rich Hill of Saratoga were both used in utility roles during the series. Fleury went two-for-six (.333) and scored one run, while Hill went one-for-two (.500) and also scored one run.

From Fresno, the California all-stars flew to Arizona to begin a five-game series with the Arizona all-stars. The series will conclude on Thursday with a doubleheader at Arizona State.

San Miguel keys Reds' romp over Taco La Paz

RACHEL SAN MIGUEL had four base hits and teamed with Terri Machado to limit the Taco La Paz Padres to just one run as Paul and Dino's Reds coasted to a 13-1 victory in the Campbell Bobby Sox major division.

Wendy Failing added two singles to the Red attack. Machado struck out five batters in three innings to save the win for San Miguel.

The DDR Enterprises Braves also sent the Padres to defeat 5-4. Julie Reilly wielded the big bat, clubbing a triple and single to drive in four Brave runs. Sue Martin held the Padres scoreless until the final inning and drove in the other Brave tally with her base hit.

Ann Sullivan and Anne Sawyer had doubles for the Padres. The Phillies fought off a strong comeback try by the Reds to nail down an 8-7 win on June 11.

Down in the minor division, Chemene Hickey powered a grand slam and allowed only one unearned run as the Allied Electric Orioles defeated the Gold Dust Custom Jewelry Twins 24-1.

Adding to the Oriole attack were Christine Lugas with a triple, Corrine Peralez with five singles, Lori Loftus with four base hits and Tracy Bourqualt with three.

LORI HUGHES blasted a grand slam for the Wheel-A-Way Tigers and Rita Alam doubled, singled and pitched her way to a 27-11 win over the Gold Dust Custom Jewelry Twins.

Wrapping up the minor division action, the Orioles claimed two earlier victories, beating the Nob Hill Foods Angels 17-7 and the Tigers 10-9.

Corinne Peralez was the winning pitcher in the Angel game, adding the offensive punch with a three-run home run and three singles. Hickey and Loftus had three singles each in the game, with Loftus tacking on a double.

Kim Bryant struck out 10 batters in the five innings she pitched for the Angels.

It was another Peralez homer, this time a grand slam, that led the Orioles past the Tigers on June 6. She cracked a pair of doubles and backed up Hickey's pitching with good defense.

Alam had two base hits for the Tigers.

Valley drivers at Seca Laguna

THIRTEEN DRIVERS from the Santa Clara Valley were among the fastest finishers in the Sports Car Club of America's June regionals at Laguna Seca Raceway in Monterey.

In race one, George Tralle of Los Altos finished third in his Datsun 280Z, behind two other 280's. Luis Sanchez of Sunnyvale took home seventh place, Mike Jensen of San Jose finished 12th and David Lee of Los Altos was 13th.

Glen Biren and Harry Sorteberg of San Jose ran second and fourth, respectively, in race three. Dave Rocha of San Jose crossed the finish line in 11th place, Warren Chamberlain of Mountain View was 13th and Berry Griffin of Milpitas was 24th.

Byrd, Morgan in stock battle

Two fours add up to two for Kaeding

IT MIGHT GO against all of the equations we learned in arithmetic during our school years, but for Brent Kaeding four and four added up to two in June 7 super modified action at the San Jose Fairgrounds Speedway.

Because young Kaeding's fourth feature race win of the 1980 season and his fourth trophy dash victory of the year helped him jump back into second place in the current San Jose modified points race.

Kaeding of Campbell rolled to a victory in the 20-lap main event on June 7 to up his point total to 182 for the year. Nick Rescino of Sunnyvale was second in the feature race to increase his track leading point total to 206.

Both drivers also qualified for the July 26 Johnny Key Memorial Race by virtue of their strong feature race performances. Third place Darrel Dudley and fourth place Nick Ringo of San Jose also won Key positions on the first night of qualifying.

Key qualifying will continue on Saturday when the super modifieds and stock cars return to the Fairgrounds clay oval for a double-header card. Gates open at 5 p.m. with the first race at 7 p.m.

Admission prices range from $5 for adults to $3 for juniors and $1 for children under 12.

RESCINO KEPT A firm hold on his points lead after recording the fastest qualifying time, finishing fourth in the dash, winning his heat and finishing second in the main.

Rescino recorded his second quick time of the year and the 153rd of his career when he blistered a lap in 14.771.

Kaeding won the dash with Mike Sargent of San Jose second, Scott Murray of Campbell third and Rescino fourth.

Kaeding beat Rescino to the checkered flag to win the feature race with Dudley third and Ringo fourth. Sargent, now third on the points list at 177, was fifth with Bob Bakeman of San Jose sixth, Murray seventh, Andy Taylor eighth, Joe Bailey ninth and Ray Alter jr. of Mountain View 10th.

John Viel, at one time the San Jose points leader, crashed on the eighth lap of the feature race and had to settle for a 16th place finish. He now ranks fourth on the points list at 167.

Art McCarthy of San Jose won the first heat race with Ollie Hazelton of San Jose second and Pat Holton of San Jose third and Skip Beard of San Jose won the second heat with Bill Otterstrom second and Ed Hopper of San Jose third.

In the consolation race, Roy Fuller of San Jose was third with Ken Bonemma second, Rich Roy third and Scott Luhdorff of San Jose fourth.

RAY MORGAN and Dave Byrd of Los Gatos continued to wage their two-man battle for stock car supremacy the same night.

Byrd won the feature race with Morgan second, Scott Williamson third, Bruce Curl fourth, Jeff Barron of Los Gatos fifth, Larry Lundin of San Jose sixth, John Keldsen seventh, Joe Hayes eighth, Bob Benge ninth and Vern Anderson of Campbell 10th.

Morgan had notched the fast time of the night at 18.868 before Anderson rolled to his second trophy dash win of the year. Curl was second with Morgan third and Lundin fourth.

Guy Pacheco of San Jose won the first heat race with Danny Princeau of Santa Clara second and Rick Mathews of San Jose third and Robert Miller of San Jose won the second heat with George Oberle of San Jose second and Felix deLeon of San Jose third.

Ken Naber of Saratoga won the third heat with Morgan second and Keldsen third and Byrd won the fourth heat with Hayes second and Williamson third.

'Thirsty' Himmelberger 1st to tasting room door

LEADING THE FLOCK — A late entry in the Mirassou Vineyards — Nike 3.5 mile run moves right into the lead after joining the flock of 700 runners late in the June 7 race. But even though she finished first, it was David Himmelberger who was the official winner in the first annual race. Photography by Wayne Glusker

DAVID HIMMELBERGER must have a taste for the bubbly — or, at least, he must have been mighty thirsty when he ran in the first annual Mirassou-Nike Grape Run on June 7 in the East San Jose foothills.

Because Himmelberger certainly was in a real hurry to reach the finish line when he took the Saturday run over the 3.5 mile course that twisted its way through the Mirassou vineyards.

And Himmelberger's big thirst paid off for him in the weekend run, because he was the first runner to cross the finish line in front of the Mirassou tasting room doors when he stopped the clock at 18:42.

Himmelberger finished first to the pop of a champagne cork and was chased to the finish line by Brent McGinnis (19:33), John Lilygren (20:05), Philip H. Knudsen (20:15), Michael Hicks (20:23), Steve Radigan (20:38), Larry Worth (20:55) and Dennis Morris (20:58).

Nancy Alleman was the first woman finisher in the race at 22:33 with Kathy Himmelberger, wife of the men's winner, second at 22:47 and Teresa Rementer third at 23:27.

TOP FINISHERS in each of the age divisions for men included: 21-25 — 1) David Jalajas (22:21), 2) Jeff Nilles (22:53), 3) Mike Korda (22:59); 26-30 — 1) McGinnis (19:33), 2) Lilygren (20:05), 3) Radigan (20:38); 31-35 — 1) D. Paul Copperman

By PATTY SELBACH

Public schools have suffered a decline in the literacy of their students, and it may take 10 or more years to reverse that trend, according to reading education expert Paul Copperman.

Copperman, whose book, "The Literacy Hoax," became a national best seller in 1978, is trying to offset that decline with reading programs for fifth graders on up through working adults.

The programs are being offered in Santa Clara County beginning next week through local school districts or recreation departments.

Copperman, founder of the Institute of Reading Development in San Jose, discovered what he said are staggering deficiencies in reading skills in junior high, high school and college students.

For instance, Copperman said, only one of three high school graduates today functions at the same level as graduates did in 1965.

In addition, 15 percent of high school graduates in the country are functionally illiterate and 30 percent possess only basic reading skills.

The fact that the educational establishment at first refused to admit a problem existed only made matters worse, Copperman said.

"We really lost practically an entire generation."

Reasons for this, Copperman believes, include a general breakdown of academic standards in public schools. For example, textbooks are now being written at two years below the grade level they are being used in, he said.

In the past, students were required to read books at two grade levels above their actual grade, he said.

Also, less emphasis on writing skills contributes to a decline in reading ability. Older curriculums required students to write a composition every two weeks.

Today, the average student is required to write a composition once every four months, according to Copperman.

Another factor is the breakdown in the traditional student-teacher relationship, he said. Students no longer respect their teachers and many teachers lack confidence.

However, Copperman's book and its claims were soon accepted by educators. As a result, he has logged 200,000 miles in the last year speaking to educational groups across the country.

Copperman designed two levels of reading programs designed to increase reading skills, including comprehension, retention and speed control.

The first level is for students between 11 and 15 years old, the ages where reading education in the schools is inadequate, he says.

"The educational process itself has deteriorated beyond fifth grade," Copperman said, adding that grades kindergarten through fourth are generally being taught adequate basic reading skills.

After the fourth grade, reading should no longer be a conscious struggle. Students should be able to forget that they're reading, Copperman said.

"That is not happening adequately at all."

Copperman stresses that the program is not remedial, but is for any student who wishes to increase his reading ability by two to three grade levels.

With most summer schools wiped out by Proposition 13, Copperman's program gives students the chance to improve their reading skills.

"We set up a whole series of programs so that youngsters in the county would have a summer school option."

For 16-year-olds through adults, the reading program teaches comprehension of more difficult reading materials and control over reading speed.

"The goal is to control speed rather than to read ridiculously fast," Copperman said.

For instance, light reading could be handled at 800 to 1,000 words per minute, while technical materials might require a speed of 200 to 400 words per minute.

In addition, the program increases comprehension and recall by 25 to 30 percent.

in addition to high school and college students, the class is also taught to executives, who must assimilate large amounts of information.

Copperman hopes that someday his program will become part of the regular school curriculum. He is currently planning books for that purpose, but does not expect them to be available for five years.

After that, it could take more than 10 years to "clean up the problems in the public schools," he said.

For now, Copperman's program is available beginning next week through the Morgan Hill and Los Altos recreation departments, the Union School District in Almaden, the University of Santa Clara and locations in Fremont and Portola Valley.

The courses, taught by trained instructors, last six weeks and cost $155.

Buying clubs can cost you money

By SLIM INGHAM

We've been approached by a buying club that for $499 offers a chance to purchase almost anything at what they claim to be cost plus a small percentage. We insisted on seeing the contract before we signed and were told that the offer "wouldn't be good tomorrow." We walked out at that point without signing and have since been contacted twice by the salesman for a second and third chance. They seem awfully eager to sell and his worries me a bit. What's the story on buying clubs?

Don & Rhoda Mekeane

"Fight inflation, join a buying club, get lower prices." These claims have some appeal, but watch out! These clubs can be more expensive than shopping in your local retail or discount store.

A buying club is defined as an organization that sells memberships by representing that its members can buy brand name products at lower prices than found in retail stores. Buying clubs require a large initiation fee, between $400 and $600. The effect of this fee is to put you "in the red" and the potential buyer must ask themselves if its a smart move to go into debt to save money. It's elementary math. If you spend $500 to join a club and saved an honest 25 percent on everything you bought, it would take $2000 of expenditures before you broke even.

The statistics of income from 166 of these buying clubs shows that their income from the sale of merchandise was less than 3.5 million. However, their income from the sale of memberships was 21.4 million. As long as these clubs make their money from the large initiation fees, they have no real incentive to provide good service afterward. Some clubs have low ($10 to $25) fees and do provide a valuable service but the customer must evaluate the club's savings claims before they join.

When the club claims 25 percent savings, you should ask, 25 percent off what? If it's "suggested retail price" or manufacturer's list price, you are in trouble. Regular

Should the butterfly land, drop the net slowly, Moonbaby

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Cycle low. If you suspect that your 'swan song' may be turning into a comic opera, Aries, then cut it short. Original plan to seek new horizons may be in danger of getting lost. The good-bys have been said. Now it is time to shift to a minor key.

TAURUS (April 21-May 20): After uninspired start, Moon splashes down into sluggish Scorpio and low cycle begins. Your inner 'clocks' start losing time and your rhythms have no rhyme. On last day, however, you emerge from the deep and make a miraculous recovery. Whew!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Current picture is not in focus. Plans are fuzzy. Nothing seems to click. Then, my friend, your low cycle really begins. Don't tackle confusion head-on, Gem. Lay back. Lay off. Lay low.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Expect the unexpected. Should elusive butterfly land on your favorite flower, Moonbaby, please bring the net down slowly. Week of discovery ends on key of C for caution.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Health and relaxation highlighted. Soup, sleep and simplicity will work magic. TLC comes from unexpected source, Leo, if you will lay back and let someone else be 'the boss' for a change. Week ends with a promise.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Cycle continues high. Partner, mate may want explanation of behavior. Don't put off confrontation, Virgo, Now is the hour. Deal. In final shuffle, joker takes the pot. Week ends with a snicker.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Cycle high. You walk tightrope this week, Libra. However, if you don't look back, and you don't look down, you can maintain precarious balance. Keep eyes straight ahead on distant goal.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Moon enters your sign on second day and high cycle begins. Lady Luck seeks you out. Leave all avenues open, Scorp, as well as doors, windows and transoms. Week ends with a titter.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): When Moon dances into your sign (the 25th) high cycle begins. Energy returns and social life gets into high gear. Try to put best foot forward instead of in your mouth, Saj. Week ends on key of B for boogaloo.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Important week ahead, Cap. Career and social contacts stimulate your imagination. Little bird flits into your life — tweaks your nose — then flits out again. You love it, love it, love it!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Bread which you have cast upon the water returns to you and not just as soggy bread. Moon enters sexy Sagittarius (the 25th) and love looms. After a certain amount of bobbing and weaving you tie knot.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): New patterns emerge. Frank discussion may be in order. You deal from strength, Pisces, so request that all cards be placed on table — face up. If partner is game, you both win.

Mexican food can be lots more than a taco, you know. That's what the owner and founder of the Acapulco y Los Arcos restaurant decided when he was still a very young orphan.

After hitchhiking from New York to Colorado at age 12, Ray Marshall had his first "bite of the chili" and as he says, "I was hooked." Since then, exploring the cuisine in all its variety has become almost a crusade for him. He has spent the past two decades developing his own restaurants featuring (are you ready for this?) an 18-page menu of authentically prepared cuisine.

His first restaurant was opened in 1961 in Pasadena, California. I've noticed that his food isn't as fiery, but the taste is much more subtle.

"Cilantro, chocolate, tomatoes, avocados — these are the flavors that give Mexican food its style," says Chef Marshall. One of his creations won an award in the Culinary Olympics in Frankfurt, Germany, and he was named "National Chef of the Year, 1978" by the American Culinary Federation.

Specialties include Camarones Rancheros—a Mexican shrimp stew, and Chimichanga — shredded beef machaca rolled in a flour tortilla and fried to a pastry-like flakiness. A new favorite is Chef Marshall's Vista del Mar, a culinary creation of king crab, shrimp, chicken, avocado and more. Each sauce is prepared fresh daily.

All the traditional Mexican drinks are available, including double Margaritas and "cervesa" Mexican beer.

I was amazed to find that since 1961, there are now 15 Acapulco's, including one in Sun Valley and two here in the Santa Clara Valley — Santa Clara and San Jose.

Though there are many other fine Mexican restaurants here on the Peninsula, there's always room for more. Each has its own special ambiance and personality, and each serves a different type of cooking or preparation.

SOUTH OF THE BORDER: The Peninsula also offers several smaller Mexican restaurants, many of which prepare excellent cuisine. Here's just a few which I have tried and enjoyed: The Bullfighter in downtown Los Altos is beautiful, very festive, serving great food & healthy margaritas . . . Le Fe, 250 Third St., Los Altos, features a Mexican Deli (American sandwiches & deli products also) plus a fine restaurant. 1st restaurant in San Francisco . . . At the Estrellita, El Camino & San Antonio Rd., Los Altos, do try the Tostada Vallarta (with beans and cheese, chicken, lettuce, guacamole and sour cream). Many other tasty dishes served in this little hideaway . . . Senor Pepe's — one beneath the oaks in Cupertino, the other on the water's edge in Foster City. Beautiful restaurants . . . El Tarasco, between 4th & 5th, San Jose, take out Mexican favorites and new varieties cooked in a unique way. Special desserts . . . Casa Real, 720 El Camino Real, Palo Alto, a charming small restaurant with umbrella tables outside to dine al fresco . . . Beto's Casa Blanca, 1407-A El Camino Real, Mt. View, a small hideaway with gourmet Mexican & New Mexican cuisine — owner Roberto Quintano and his wife, Alicia . . . Ole!

WIN IN NEVADA: Why not be a winner for a change in one of Nevada's posh clubs? Fly or drive to a weekend of fun and games. Harolds Club vows to have taken the "bandit" out of the "one-armed bandits" by decreasing the house odds on many of its slot machines. Worth a try! . . . be entertained by Shields & Yarnell, Peter Marshall & Chapter 5 at John Ascuaga's Nugget in Sparks (I enjoyed this show the last visit to Reno) . . . Laugh it up with bawdy singer Rusty Warren at the Sahara Reno until June 29, with her husky voice, ribald humor and songs. Rusty was a "first" of her kind way back when "sex" was a dirty word. Now, she fits right in the pattern of today's entertainment (most of it, that is) . . . dreamboat Engelbert performs at the Sahara Tahoe June 17-23, so prepare to have a swooningly good time . . . want a good pkg. deal? Try the Mapes Action Special for only $39.95 (3 days-2 nites). I did, and it was great . . . so here's just a few suggestions. Good luck.

OREGON FAVORITE: If you're traveling through Eugene, Oregon (skirting the volcano) and you feel hungry, French cuisine may be enjoyed at the La Primavera at 388 W. 7th. Ray Sewell is the owner (a former peninsulite). My seat partner on United to Hawaii was pretty Kate Williams, owner of Travels with Charlie in Eugene. She concurred this was a good dining bet.

Winestaster / Try homegrown Santa Cruz Mountain wines

By MARY LESTER

It was back in November, 1977 when a group of wineries calling themselves the Santa Cruz Mountain Vintners gave a collective tasting for a group of wine writers. That was my first experience of sampling many of these winemakers' offerings and it opened my eyes and palate to their unique wines.

Now, recently I have had the wondrous experience of tasting and evaluating the much more sophisticated wines of the Santa Cruz Mountain Vintners. There were 16 wineries gathered together and all of the wines I tasted were quite interesting and some ten were fantastic!

The wineries who offered samples were Congress Springs, Devlin Wine Cellars, Felton-Empire Vineyards, Martin Ray Vineyards, Ahlgren Vineyard, David Bruce Winery, Sunrise Winery, Woodside Vineyards, Roudon-Smith Vineyards, Sherrill Cellars, Silver Mt. Vineyards, P and M Staiger, Mount Eden Vineyards, Obester Winery, Page Mill Winery and Ridge Vineyards.

Little Congress Springs Vineyards in Saratoga is but four years old and already has about 30 retail outlets in Santa Clara County for their small production. This winery is gung-ho in enthusiasm and much of the credit should go to co-owners Dan and Robin Gehrs. Dan is also winemaker. They've lucked out in getting their grapes from the old Alma (formerly Novitiate grapevines) vines right above Lexington Reservoir. Leon Adams, the renowned wine historian, calls Alma possibly the greatest vineyards in California. Anyway, Congress Springs 1979 Semillon from Alma is a beaut. Very dry, heavy in alcohol, but not overpowering. It has a flinty taste and one for the connoisseur. I'll buy it! About $5.50.

Felton-Empire Vineyards is a specialty producer of low alcohol Riesling wines in the German tradition. The winery is located six miles north of Santa Cruz in Felton. Winemaker Leo McCloskey is also the consulting enologist for Ridge Vineyards and until recently, was winemaker for Smothers' Vineyards. Felton-Empire's white wines are the kind you like or don't — no in-between. I like most of them. The 1979 White Riesling is medium dry, not as sweet as others and the '79 Gewurztraminer is very spicy, dry and lovely. In the $5-6 range.

Ahlgren Vineyard, established 1976, is located in Boulder Creek. Less than 1,000 cases are made and consequently most of the product is sold direct from the winery. Only 150 cases were made of the Monterey Chardonnay which goes for $10. I enjoyed this crisp, somewhat austere vintage. But, anyone really into wine appellations should go wild over getting a '79 Semillon (July release) from Ahlgren because it also comes from the old Alma Vineyards just as Congress Springs' same varietal. The comparison is worthwhile. The styles of winemaking tell the story. Both are collector's items.

One of the oldest wineries of the "new" group is David Bruce Winery in Los Gatos. Bruce offered a 1979 Gewurztraminer from Mendocino and a '77 Petite Sirah from San Luis Obispo. This dermatologist-winemaker (or vice-versa) is truly an innovator. The Gewurz is really fruity in the mouth but has a dry finish. The Petite Sirah is loaded with tannin and shouldn't be at it's peak until at least 1985. But, due to it's popularity, it will probably be all bought and drunk very shortly. However, this finale doesn't bother Bruce or the other winemakers too much since it means the wines are well-liked and they can go on making them. More anon.

discount houses sell for less than these prices and you don't have to pay an initiation fee.

These buying clubs often are typified by some of history's all time high pressure sales tactics. "Sign up now, you won't get another chance" or "let's see if you are worthy enough to qualify" are a part of the sales hustle — don't fall for it!

We are cautiously entering into the process of buying a new car. One dealer offers a $750 trade in for any car, even if it has to be towed to the dealership. This is an obvious sales hustle. How does it work?

Bram Olson,
Sunnyvale.

The dealer will jack up the price of the new car to cover the trade in. Try making the deal for the new car for $200 over invoice and then ring in your request for the $750 trade in. It won't work, of course, but may put you in a more favorable bargaining position. So as to know everything necessary about the nervous process of car purchasing, send for our new publication, "Buying the New & Used Car." It costs you $1.00 and a stamped (20 cents) self address legal size envelope. Send this to our mailing address with a note specifying this publication. Allow 3 - 4 days for delivery. Following the suggestions outlined in this publication will let you come out ahead or at least break even with the dealer.

The furniture and appliance peddlers that beg you to come in and buy from them even if you've been denied credit elsewhere seem to be prospering. How can they extend credit when no one else will?

Shirley Corey,
Sunnyvale.

They run their own credit business at rates that would make an Iranian oil salesman quiver and turn grey.

First, eat brunch then dance it off

Tommy Dorsey, Glenn Miller, Johnny Mathis, Duke Ellington, Bill Haley and the Comets, Elvis Presley and Stan Keaton are just some of the music talents that are there in record form every Sunday for a new concept in Sunday Brunches. It's called "Dance Your Brunch Off."

The idea of an unusual way to further enjoy a Sunday Brunch comes from Ron Piscitelli, general manager of the Ramada Inn in Santa Clara, who believes people are looking for something other than disco or hard rock.

"Most people go home from Sunday brunches with the 'over ate' syndrome, so what better way to work off a few calories than dancing," Piscitelli stated.

The idea has caught on fast. From approximately four couples the first week to over ninety-eight couples just two weeks later, and reservations three weeks in advance, at $6.50 per person.

Adults mainly over 35 years of age fill the dance floor with some of the most lively steps coming from couples well into their 60's and 70's. Brunch is served from 11:30 - 2 p.m., dancing from noon till 4 p.m.

Both the FISH MARKET restaurants in P.A. & Santa Clara boast of deboned, fileted fr. fish in both the market & the restaurant. These restaurants offer the "world's best" Clam Chowder & Mesquite Wood Charcoal Broiled Red Snapper among other fine seafood dishes. The Santa Clara restaurant also features an Oyster Bar & a bar/lounge. All maj. credit cards are honored — open 7 days a wk. Now in season: fr. scallops, scrod from the East Coast, fr. Alaskan halibut, swordfish & crab.

Recently friends of mine stopped by SENOR PEPE'S to enjoy their Happy Hour from 3-6 — this is featured every Mon.-Fri. They found a friendly group of people doing likewise & enjoying seating either in the restaurant or on the lovely patio underneath the Oak tree. SENOR PEPE'S is located on Stevens Creek Blvd. across from De Anza College & it's well worth the trip from any direction just to enjoy their fine Mexican cuisine & giant drinks. Highly recommended.

The GARDEN CITY was filled with Fathers last weekend enjoying their Continental cuisine & the fine entertainment that is provided by Mgr. HENRY SCHIRO. PAUL PONG plays every Tues.-Sun. from 5-8 p.m. — KHARYN LEIGH Mon.-Tues., TIFFANY STRINGS entertain Wed. 5-8 p.m. while the favorite regulars, MARTIN MANN & BUD DIMOCK, perform Wed.-Sun. 8-12 p.m. Every Sun. nite the jam session is filled w/musicians incl. percussionist KENT BRYSON. Watch the ads for the weekly entertainer — always a celebrity.

The new 'dining out' is more than just frills; it's a feeling. At SIRLOIN & BREW UNLIMITED it's also a dinner you'll remember & at a price that's very easy to forget. Recently 2 Spanish art dealers had dinner at SIRLOIN & BREW UNLIMITED & couldn't believe the low prices incl. pitchers & pitchers of sangria which were "the best they ever tasted." Many others from all over the world have discovered the 7 full service SIRLOIN & BREW UNLIMITED dinner houses in the Bay Area. It's true you can dine on a superb dinner for less than $5.00 (with lots of bonuses).

Recently a lady called to ask where she could find a Dim Sum lunch, as it was a particular favorite of her family. RUBY KING serves Dim Sum luncheons thruout the wk. & on weekends you'll find extra special offerings. This restaurant is open 7 days a wk. serving excellent Mandarin cuisine just as they prepare in their Hong Kong, Taipai & Singapore restaurants so you can see it's authentic. There's a bar/lounge for your convenience, so stop by.

A champagne brunch in the country?? That's right, JAN'S VALLEY INN features a marvelous Sun. brunch from 10-2 p.m. There's plenty of parking either in front of the restaurant or next door in the shopping ctr. The hospitality is only exceeded by the fine cuisine served at this friendly restaurant which rates a big "A" for atmosphere. It's nestled amongst tall redwood trees in this charming old-fashioned setting — only a 7 minute drive up Hwy #280 out Sand Hill or Alpine Road, Portola Valley — try it.

If you enjoy the nitely specials served at the ECHO for only $3.95, remember you may also order the specials for lunch for only $3.25 which incl. soup or salad, potatoes & vegt. Incld. on the menu is a marvelous N.Y. Steak & mushrooms & other delicious entrees. A $3.95 succulent Prime Rib is on the lunch menu & absolutely delectable. Here's one restaurant where you can really get your money's worth & enjoy dining in a relaxed, attractive atmosphere served by very friendly waitresses. Linger on to enjoy Jim Murphy & Clay Landrum entertaining in the lounge.

Would you enjoy pungent Hot & Sour Soup, Dry Braised Prawns (Szechuan style), & an exciting Peking Duck prepared by an expert? If so, CHEF CHU'S prepares all of these pleasing surprises in his window-walled kitchen. There's a busy take-out counter, bar & new 9 Dragon Dining Room featuring a beautiful 47' carved wooden panel of 9 dragons in gold leaf — an exquisite piece of art.

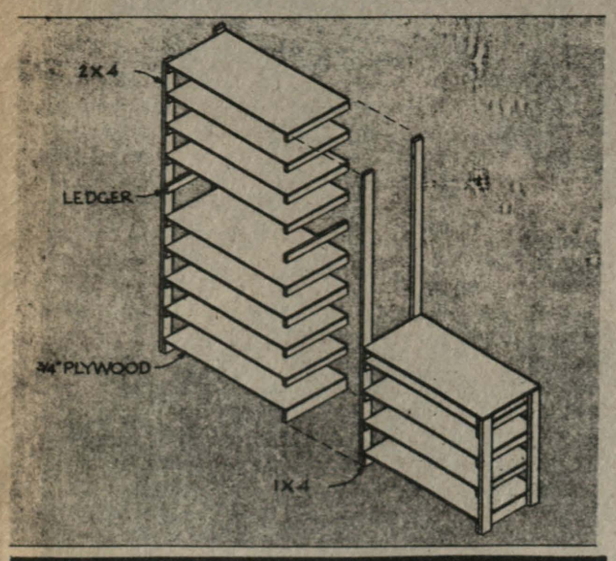
For the home canner



Here's the spot for the harvest from your garden. Each shelf will hold either 77 pint jars or 56 quarts. And, you can easily add another module of either height if you need it.

1 Cut 2 feet off three sheets of ¾-inch plywood and then saw the 4x6-foot pieces into four 2x3-foot shelves.
2 From the 2x4 pieces remaining, saw two more shelves (one for the 37½-inch-wide countertop).
3 From the rest of the plywood, cut the four 3-inch-wide bottom shelf supports and the other 2-inch supports.
4 Next build the two "ladder" ends for the taller side with four 78-inch 2x4s. Space the shelf supports every 8¾ inches.
5 Stand the "ladders" on edge and temporarily nail on a scrap piece to steady them. Nail in the bottom, top, and one middle shelf (other shelves are removable).
6 Remove the temporary holder and turn the unit facedown on the floor. Nail a diagonal 1x4 brace to the back, driving nails into both 2x4s and all three shelves. (Or, enclose the back with ⅛-inch hardboard.) Lift into place.
7 To add the shorter section, build a 36-inch-long ladder, add supports for the attached end, and connect by nailing two shelves and the top.
8 Slip the remaining shelves into place on the shelf supports.

Reprinted from "Storage Projects You Can Build" Copyright Meredith Corp. 1977

Materials: For the project as shown, you'll need three sheets of ¾-inch plywood and 32 lineal feet of 2x4s.

Rec room storage and seating

1 Cut and assemble the sides of the three separate bases. Use ¾-inch plywood and make them 14 inches high. The corner unit is a 2-foot-square box. The single base is 30 inches wide and the longer one extends 5 feet.
2 Add the center divider in the larger base and then nail 1x4s to all the front edges as shown.
3 Cut the ¾-inch plywood tops for the two seating units and attach with glue and finishing nails.
4 Build a 2-foot square of 1x2s on edge to fit over the corner unit and nail it to the plywood edges. For the removable top, frame a piece of ¾-inch plywood with 1x2s. Miter joints here will pay off in neat appearance. The top isn't attached—just lift it off for access to the space beneath.
5 Measure the openings and build the three bins to fit. Be sure to include the casters in measuring the height. Assemble back, sides, and bottom of each bin, and attach platform casters. Lastly, cut the fronts to clear floor by ½ inch and nail in place.
6 The three sections of your project will be heavy enough to just set into place in most instances. But if you'd like to anchor them together, drill holes through the two ends adjoining the corner unit and attach them with bolts and wing nuts. This way, they are easily disassembled for moving.

Materials: To build the three-part project in the dimensions shown, you'll need two sheets of ¾-inch plywood, 1½ sheets of ½-inch plywood, 8 lineal feet of 1x2s, 6 lineal feet 1x4s, and 12 casters.

A carport with storage on the side

If you own a home, chances are you also own a lot of equipment. Finding a weather-protected home for all that gear can pose a considerable problem. These homeowners came up with a neat solution. They devised an attractive outdoor storage unit that houses their principal vehicles (one car and a bevy of bikes) and also offers the security of an enclosed storage room.

Photographs: John Rogers. Architect: Michael Bartlett, AIA

Cedar shingles and opposing shed roofs integrate this carport and adjacent bicycle storage into a single structure.

This vehicle-plus-storage area tucks neatly into a corner of the backyard; the storage room is sited between the two vehicle ports. You can enter the 6½x24-foot storage room through a door centered along the drywalled carport wall or from a second door on the opposite side.

The simple, functional design of the structure helps to keep it unobtrusive. The concrete slab ports have shed roof lines and cedar shake roofing and siding. The fencing is extended along the driveway to separate the storage ports from the adjacent garden areas.

Car Care Guide

EVERYTHING UNDER THE SUN FOR YOUR CAR OR TRUCK!

How to troubleshoot your car by looking and listening

You're driving down a lonely stretch of road when suddenly the engine begins thumping loudly; only then do you realize you'd been ignoring for weeks an odd rattling from under the hood. If you had been alert to that quirky sound, you might have discovered the loose engine mount before it broke — and thus saved yourself some money. In these days of pump-it-yourself gasoline, you're often the only one who can perceive subtle warning signals like the one above. All it takes is tuning in your senses to the ways your car sounds, looks, and feels as you drive. Here's how to sleuth out the sources of puzzling sounds and sights.

Forget the dipstick?

Most car care articles tell you to check the oil frequently and change it regularly, because that fluid is the life-blood of your car. But unless you keep careful maintenance records, it's often hard to remember how many miles ago you last checked or changed the oil, especially if you're using oils that last 15,000 miles or more. If you buy oil changes, ask that a sticker indicating the service performed and the car's mileage be applied to your car; if you do your own oil changing, scratch the mileage on the new oil filter canister before installing it.

In addition to checking the dipstick and the mileage notations, occasionally glance at the oil warning light. Of course, you'll spot it when it lights up, but if you detect any flickering on tight turns, the oil level may be getting too low or the oil pump may be failing. Also, if you hear a faint intermittent tapping sound when the engine is cold, but the sound disappears when the engine is warmed, the crankcase could be in dire need of more oil. If you've been doing more driving than normal in dusty weather or on gravel roads, remember to check the oil more frequently. If the oil looks dark and dirty, it's time for an oil change; check the air filter for excessive dirt, too.

Tired turn signals?

A battery that's losing power will make your headlights seem dimmer (make sure they're just not dirty), slow down the blinking of your turn signals (first make sure a burnt-out bulb is not the cause), and fade your radio's volume. If you think you're imagining these things, pull your car up close to the garage door at night and rev the engine with the car in park. If the headlights brighten, then fade when you slow the engine, check the battery's fluid level by carefully removing the caps (if there are any). If it's a factory-sealed battery or if the fluid level is normal, jiggle the battery cables close to the terminals to test their tightness and examine the terminals for excessive white powdery corrosion; tighten or clean as necessary. Should that fail to locate the problem, press on the alternator belt. If it depresses more than a half inch, it's probably too loose to keep the battery charged.

Getting hot under the hood?

If you try to stay alert to driving conditions that can cause an overheated engine, you may be able to forestall a crisis. One example: creeping along in heavy traffic on a hot day with the air conditioner blasting puts a strain on the cooling system. To circulate coolant through the engine faster, turn off the air conditioner, roll down the windows, and turn on the heater. (Shift to a lower gear on cars with standard transmissions.)

Have you noticed any wet spots on your garage floor or driveway? Place a newspaper under the car overnight after the exhaust has cooled for a few minutes; if the leak is rusty water (clean water probably comes from air conditioner condensation), you may have a leaking radiator.

Do you detect a muted chirping sound from the engine as you're driving? Have a mechanic check the water pump for a possible weakness.

Losing your cool?

Do you seem to be turning the air conditioner to higher levels to keep as cool as you like? This could signal a problem with the refrigerant or the belt that drives the air conditioner. If you detect a momentary squeal when you switch on the air conditioner, suspect a loose belt. Depress the belt midway between the compressor and the radiator fan. If the belt gives more than about one-half inch or looks glazed or frayed, it may need tightening or replacing.

Checking the refrigerant is risky because just a few seconds' exposure to it can injure eyes or skin. About all you can do is check the hoses running out of the compressor for oily residues signaling leaks (but don't tug on the hoses or touch potential leaks). Also see if the condenser in front of the radiator is clogged with leaves or bugs.

Steering wheel fighting back?

Can you hear a faint chirping sound when you turn a corner (and perhaps feel a corresponding gentle tugging in the steering wheel)? If you do, try turning the wheel all the way to the right or the left when the car is parked. If the chirping gets louder, the belt that runs the power steering pump may be loose. If the jerking is more pronounced, even when the car is going straight, or if you hear a groaning sound, check the dipstick in the power steering pump for a low fluid level. Stains of thick, clear fluid on the ground under the front of the engine are signs of a leak.

Does your car wander back and forth in the lane slightly while you're holding the wheel straight, or pull to one side, either while you're driving or braking? Suspect misalignment. To determine if the car pulls to the side, try lifting your hands from the wheel momentarily as you're traveling slowly down an uncrowded street.

Does the hood appear to shudder or does the steering wheel shake slightly? Have the balancing of the front wheels checked. If you feel the vibration in your lower back or buttocks, have the rear wheels checked.

Moreland plans homecoming

IT COULD turn out to be a fond farewell to a landmark or a beginning of great tradition, said Lilyan Brannon of the Moreland Site Committee.

Brannon was describing the June 21 celebration scheduled from 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. at the Moreland school site on the corner of Payne and Saratoga roads. Everyone who ever had a connection with the school is invited to the "Moreland Homecoming Festival," Brannon stressed.

Moreland, closed as an elementary school several years ago, may make way for subsidized housing. "Facing the situation realistically, the citizens know that the school may be lost," Brannon said. For that reason, she said the homecoming may be a goodbye to the facility which had the distinction of being the longest continuously used school in the state.

Former long-time Moreland principal Louise Johnston will travel from her home in North Dakota to attend the celebration, Brannon said. Efforts have been made to invite Moreland teachers who were either transferred or retired after the school closed, she added.

Highlights of the homecoming could be the baseball game between the 1962 World Champion Little League team from Moreland and a media team, Brannon predicted.

Other activities scheduled include arts, crafts and woodshop exhibits, a square dance presentation and booths featuring home-baked goods and lemonade.

The Moreland Site Committee is looking for Moreland students who went to the school before 1951 who will share memories, Brannon said.

Admission is free to the homecoming itself and proceeds from booth sales will go to the Moreland Site Committee, a group fighting to save the school site for open space.

Further information on the homecoming can be obtained by calling 243-2773, 241-5769 or 296-0943.

Santa Clara Valley REALTOR'S REVIEW

The average price at the close of escrow of five houses in Los Altos that reported the selling price to the Los Altos Board of Realtors was $217,240. The May volume was 50.

The Los Gatos-Saratoga Board of Realtors reports 109 transactions in May with an average price of $217,750, compared with 36 transactions averaging $231,500 in April and 69 transactions averaging $197,500 in March.

In Palo Alto, there were 25 transactions, 15 of which reported the price to the Palo Alto Board of Realtors. The average price was $156,451. This compares with 23 transactions with an average price of $165,700 in April and 26 transactions averaging $166,350 in March.

In Mountain View, the average price was $121,200 for May, compared with $142,153 for April and $106.616 for March.

The San Jose Real Estate Board will be part of the fifth Annual Tapestry in Talent Festival scheduled for the July 4 weekend, according to board spokeswoman Laurie Brammer.

A community services area at the festival will highlight community organizations. The Board has planned a visual display devoted to consumer and community activities. One major Board project is a smoke detector campaign.

This campaign began last year when Realtors and Realtor Associates were urged to promote the use of smoke detectors. An extensive media campaign was built around Fire Prevention Week in October. But since fire kills all year long, Board members felt it was important to stress the program all year long.

Information brochures on smoke detector installation and fire protection will be available at the festival. The Board's display will also outline other Board activities such as the voter registration campaign and a recent housing forum.

The festival is set for July 4, 5 and 6 in downtown San Jose. Coordinating the Board's display are Mary O'Leary, chairperson of the public relations committee, and Rick Hahn, chairperson of the Make America Better Committee.

The California Association of Realtors' 1979 president Clark E. Wallace has been appointed to the Governor's Task Force on Housing Affordability. The task force is made up of representatives from those industries which are connected with the state's housing industry.

The task force will make recommendations to Governor Jerry Brown. The main charge of the task force is to study the state's housing crisis and, based on the collective experience of those participating, make reasoned recommendations.

The Los Altos Board of Realtors has announced that Gordon Shaw of Shaw Investment Realty has been awarded the professional designation of RECI from the Real Estate Certificate Institute Division of the California Association of Realtors.

James D. Beddingfield was named 1980 Exchangor of the Year by the San Jose Real Estate Board. He owns and operates his own realty office, B&B Realty in San Jose. His exchange involved 15 separate parcels with 18 different principals. The Board will honor him at the June 19 luncheon with a plaque.

Two Palo Alto Board members presented the Board's annual scholarship to students at high school awards ceremonies.

Tim Anderson, a Palo Alto Realtor, presented the E. W. Armentrout, Jr. scholarship to Rachel Bergman, a graduate of Gunn High School, while Keith Suddjian, another Palo Alto Realtor, presented the scholarship to Michael Lerner, a Palo Alto High School senior. Suddjian won the same award in 1975.
